Dance the Night Away! Wedding Day Playlist

Let's talk music! Your DJ will be the ultimate source of entertainment for the night – to make sure your sounds are perfect, they're going to need some information from you.

Remember, your DJ is the only vendor that you are required to select from the Trademark Preferred Vendor List. They will be your resource for sound during your event as well, providing speakers and microphones for important moments like vows and speeches. Please reach out to your planning team for any recommendations they may have for your personal style!

Let's start by identifying some songs you would like to avoid on the big day.

Trademark Pro Tip!

Our Trade Secrets blog has a great list of songs, from classic to modern.

Now, let's create your custom song list.

Processional ● Partner 1 ● Family ● Wedding Party ● Partner 2 Most ceremonies have one song for family, wedding party, and the partner that enters first. A second song typically plays for the grand entrance of the second partner.

Specialty Ceremony Use this song as the background for a unity or religious / cultural ceremony.
Recessional This should be fun and upbeat! You and your guests will be celebrating your first steps as a married couple.
Cocktail Hour Unless you have a specific playlist, you can provide your DJ with the general ambiance you would like for this time and they will take it from there!
Grand Entrance ● Family ● Wedding Party ● Couple Most entrances include the wedding party and the couple. You can split it between your personal wedding parties or have them all enter as one group. Your song can either be the beginning of your first dance song, or transition to it afterwards.
